Communication and Dissemination Plan

Max 2 pages, 3 MB, pdf file.

See Annex III of Call announcement

Guidance on the EUPAHW Communication and Dissemination Plan

A plan for communication and dissemination has to be provided in the full-proposal phase and is considered in the evaluation procedure. Each project should go beyond dissemination and envision how to communicate, reach out and engage the general public and relevant stakeholders. Each project has to submit a plan for communication and dissemination, specifying how it will disseminate and communicate the results of the project.

To fulfil the plan for communication and dissemination, projects must dedicate appropriate resources for those activities.

Communication is defined as the work you do and the effort you put in informing and engaging with the wider public so they are aware of the issue your research is addressing, the question you are posing, the methods you are using to answer that question and the anticipated outcomes. Communication is in addition to 'dissemination', which is focused on the production of scientific papers, posters and presentations at closed scientific congresses, and work with specialist stakeholder groups. Please include both communication and dissemination activities for the entire project duration in your plan.

Communication activities may for example include activities such as development of a website and/or app, media communications programme, social media programme, videos/podcasts, infographics/project literature, creative artwork/exhibition stands, quizzes / games / serious gaming, science fairs/open houses intended for wider audiences, meetings of targeted stakeholders, training for consortium on aspects of communication. Please consult the national annexes of your respective funding agency for potential limitations to funding certain communication activities.

For further information on the topic see also the publication: "Making the most of your H2020 project - Boosting the impact of your project through effective communication, dissemination and exploitation"⁶

What is a Communication and Dissemination Plan?

It is a document that demonstrates that a Consortium has clearly thought through the rationale, target stakeholders, activities, timescales, budgets and measures including their key performance indicators (KPIs) and means of verification for communications and dissemination activities it will implement as an integral part of its project plan.

Whilst each Communication and Dissemination Plan will be different, it is likely to consist of:

- a narrative (the rationale/ approach)
- a table which draws together information on priority target stakeholder groups and methods to reach them
- a timetable/GANTT chart
- a budget table with enough detail on each action/activity/product and its delivery
- a table pulling together the agreed key performance indicators or measures of success against each planned activity.

The plan should allow to answer the following questions clearly:

- Who are our priority audiences and why?
- When is the most appropriate time to engage with each audience and why?
- How do the Communication and Dissemination actions create synergy with the rest of the project plan?
- How do we justify the budget allocated to each of our proposed communications actions?
- How are we splitting responsibility for the resources and actions across the consortium?

For EUPAHW the expected minimum requirements of the Communication Plan are:

- A maximum two A4 page document
- A narrative on approach/rationale/contribution to the project
- A list of priority stakeholders, messages, actions & timetable
- Key Performance Indicators and means of verification

Data Management Plan

Max 2 pages, 3 MB, pdf file.

See Annex IV of Call Announcement

Data Management is an essential component of the success of transnational research. Representatives from academia, industry, funding agencies, and scholarly publishers designed and jointly endorsed a concise and measurable set of principles referred to as FAIR Data Principles with the intention to provide a guideline for reusability of data holdings. Four foundational principles – Findability, Accessibility, Interoperability and Reusability – are a necessity of data management. The EC published Guidelines on FAIR Data Management in Horizon 2020.

The data management plan should detail how the project partners will manage the research data generated and/or collected during the project, addressing the following issues:

- What types of data will the project generate/collect?
- What standards will be used?
- How will this data be exploited and/or shared/made accessible for verification and reuse?
- If data cannot be made available, explain why.
- How will this data be curated and preserved?
- How will the costs for data curation and preservation be covered?

This deliverable will evolve during the lifetime of the project in order to present the status of the project's reflections on data management.

Please note that Data Management is an ongoing activity of improvement and adaptation rather than something that can be finished in one short effort. The Data Management plan must reflect this. The Data Management plan is expected to be detailed in 1 up to 2 A4 pages and submitted in the full proposal stage.

The plan should allow to answer the following questions clearly:

- Who are our priority audiences and why?
- When is the most appropriate time to engage with each audience and why?
- How do the Communication and Dissemination actions create synergy with the rest of the project plan?
- How do we justify the budget allocated to each of our proposed communications actions?
- How are we splitting responsibility for the resources and actions across the consortium?

For EUPAHW the expected minimum requirements of the Communication Plan are:

- A maximum two A4 page document
- A narrative on approach/rationale/contribution to the project
- A list of priority stakeholders, messages, actions & timetable
- Key Performance Indicators and means of verification

Letter of Commitment is mandatory for each associated partner !

Annex V: Letter of Commitment template (Full-Proposal Phase)

Letter of Commitment – Template

To be submitted electronically with the proposal via <https://EUPAHW.ptj.de/>

This template may be used for applicants participating in research proposals who are not eligible for funding or choose not to receive funding (e.g. from a country not participating in the call), so called “associated partners”, in order to provide evidence of their commitment. Grey-marked fields must be duly completed. Organisations are allowed to use their own templates, however the content of the letter as described hereunder should be regarded as the minimum requirement. An authorised representative of the organisation must sign this document.

In case of failure in providing such commitment, an applicant will be regarded as ineligible, jeopardising the whole research consortium.
